The Big Cheese Repel Range

SILENT NOT DEADLY

Loud music, roadworks, alarms and sirens can all cause discomfort to our ears and provide an unwelcoming environment which is exactly how the repel range of sonic repellers affects rodents.

Continuous ultrasonic sound at varying volumes and frequencies, inaudible to humans, prevents rodents from becoming tolerant to the effect and therefore discourages infestations and habitats.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

- Ultrasound does not travel through walls or other solid objects.
- Remove all food sources and attractant-based rodent control before use.
- It may take up to 28 days for the full effect to take place.
