STV

LIVE PEST-FREE

Storage wars

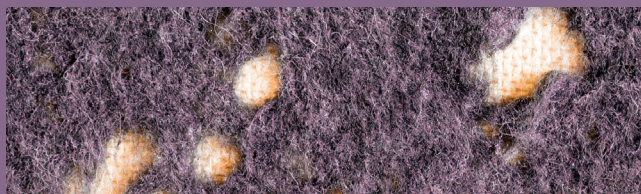

Mild weather, a return to natural fabrics and a return to vintage clothing trends have all helped to spark the recent clothes moth breeding frenzies that have led to the increase by over a third of reported infestations.

Take advantage of this increasing consumer demand with the comprehensive clothes moth control range from Zero In.

LEADERS IN PEST CONTROL

Zero In is part of STV International Limited, a privately owned UK company that has been specialising in domestic and amateur-use pest control solutions for over 25 years.

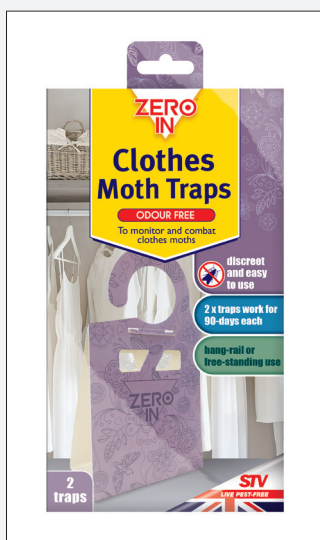

With a wealth of expertise, product testing and development, STV prides itself on delivering true customer satisfaction in times of frustration and need.

CLOTHES MOTHS

Signs: Unfortunately the first real sign of a clothes moth problem is damage to clothing and fabrics, particularly those kept in storage.

Causes: Clothes moths are attracted to animal hair (wool, cashmere, fur) as it provides a rich source of food for their larvae. Dirty/used clothes are usually to blame for initial infestations as moths are drawn to sweat and body oil.
